Awarding Criteria

Each application will be reviewed as they are received by the Panther Emergency Student Aid Fund Committee which is made up of administrators, staff, and faculty.

Many factors are taken into consideration when making a decision to approve or deny a request, and in determining the amounts to be awarded.

These factors include, but are not limited to:

- The amount of requests received compared to the funds available at the time
- The nature and urgency of the student's emergency/negative impact during the COVID-19 pandemic
- The specific and immediate impact the emergency may have on the student's living and academic circumstances
- Other resources or support that the student may have available to them

The initial maximum award will be $1,000. Exceptions may be made if circumstances warrant and the PANTHER EMERGENCY STUDENT AID FUND Committee recommends.

College Procedure for Awarding Emergency CARE Act Grants
